19 I. BACKGROUND

20 On August 4, 2014, counsel for Defendant and Cross-Claimant, Jason Ensign 21 ("Defendant"), notified the Court that some of the parties wanted to request an 22 extension to certain expert discovery deadlines. Defense counsel informed the Court 23 that the request was joined by some parties, and rejected by other parties. On August 24 4, 2014, the Court Ordered the parties to file a Joint Statement with the Court by 25 August 8, 2014. (Doc. No. 142.) The parties joining in the request were required to 26 explain their reasons for the request, and the parties opposing the request were required 27 to explain their reasons for opposing the deadline extension in the Joint Statement. Id.
28

1 The Court limited each party to two pages in the Joint Statement, and noted that no
2 exhibits would be accepted. Id.

3 On August 8, 2014, in compliance with this Court's Order, Defense counsel
4 filed a Joint Motion of Plaintiff Baker and Defendant Regarding Defendant's Request
5 to Extend the Deadline for the Exchange of Expert Witness Reports and the Deadline
6 to Complete Expert Discovery. (Doc. No. 145.) In the Joint Motion, Defendant states
7 that the basis for his request is that his designated expert, Dr. Thomas Streed, was out 8 of town on two trials prior to the August 4, 2014, expert report deadline, and therefore, 9 he was not able to prepare his report. Id. at 2. Defendant notes that Dr. Streed was also 10 preparing for two other trials over the next two weeks. Id.

11 II. RULING

12 The Court does not find good cause to grant this request and hereby DENIES 13 the Joint Motion without prejudice for the reasons set forth below.

14 A. REQUEST IS UNTIMELY

15 Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure ("Rule") 16(b)(3), a district court 16 is required to enter a pretrial scheduling order that "must limit the time to join other 17 parties, amend the pleadings, complete discovery, and file motions." Fed.R.Civ.P.
18 16(b)(3)(A). The scheduling order "controls the course of the action unless the court 19 modifies it[]" and Rule "16 is to be taken seriously." Rule 16(d); Janicki Logging Co.
20 v. Mateer, 42 F.3d 561, 566 (9th Cir.1994). As the Eastern District of California has 21 stated, parties must "diligently attempt to adhere to [the court's] schedule throughout 22 the subsequent course of the litigation." Jackson v. Laureate, Inc., 186 F.R.D. 605, 607 23 (E.D.Cal.1999). "A scheduling order 'is not a frivolous piece of paper, idly entered, 24 which can be cavalierly disregarded without peril.'" Johnson v. Mammoth Recreations, 25 Inc., 975 F.2d 604, 610 (9th Cir.1992) (quoting Gestetner Corp. v. Case Equip. Co., 26 108 F.R.D. 138, 141 (D.Me.1985)).

27 The Court finds Defendant's request to be untimely. On November 20, 2013, 28 this Court issued a Scheduling Order which set the August 4, 2014, deadline by which

1 the parties were to provide expert witness reports.^{1/} (Doc. No. 67 at 2.) The August 4, 2 2014, deadline was set eight and half months before Defendant's request to continue 3 the deadline, yet Defendant waited until the very day of the deadline to contact the 4 Court and request an extension.

5 The Court finds it difficult to believe that Defendant was unaware of the 6 roadblocks described in the Joint Motion until the day of the deadline. Defendant
 7 essentially treated the granting of the Joint Motion as a forgone conclusion, the Court's 8 approval being a mere formality in the process. However, the Court is not a mere 9 rubber stamp, and the Court would be justified in denying the request with prejudice 10 because it was received on the date of the expert report deadline.

11 B. NO GOOD CAUSE SHOWN

12 Rule 16(b)(4) "provides that a district court's scheduling order may be 13 modified upon a showing of 'good cause,' an inquiry which focuses on the reasonable 14 diligence of the moving party." Noyes v. Kelly Servs., 488 F.3d 1163, 1174 n. 6 (9th 15 Cir.2007); citing Johnson, 975 F.2d at 609. In Johnson, the Ninth circuit explained,

16 ... Rule 16(b)'s "good cause" standard primarily concerns the diligence of 17 the party seeking the amendment. The district court may modify the 18 pretrial schedule "if it cannot reasonably be met despite the diligence of 19 the party seeking the extension." Fed .R.Civ.P. 16 advisory committee's notes (1983 amendment) ... [T]he focus of the inquiry is upon the moving party's reasons for seeking modification.... If that party was not diligent, the inquiry should end.

20 Johnson, 975 F.2d at 609.

21 In part, the "good cause" standard requires the parties to demonstrate that 22 "noncompliance with a Rule 16 deadline occurred or will occur, notwithstanding her 23 diligent efforts to comply, because of the development of matters which could not have 24

25 ^{1/} On February 26, 2014, the Court issued an Amended Scheduling Order, which 26 granted Third Party Defendants' request to move the time of the July 25, 2014, 27 Mandatory Settlement Conference ("MSC"). (Doc. No. 75.) As specified in the 28 Amended Scheduling Order, no other dates were changed. Id. at 1. On May 22, 2014, the Court granted Defendant's request to extend the fact discovery deadline to June 6, 2014, for the sole purpose of permitting a non-party to respond to a subpoena served upon it by Defendant. (Doc. No. 97.) No other dates were changed.

1 been reasonably foreseen or anticipated at the time of the Rule 16 Scheduling
2 conference ...” Jackson, 186 F.R.D. at 608, emphasis added.

3 Here, the parties have been repeatedly warned that there will be no extensions
4 to the Scheduling Order absent good cause. See Scheduling Order (Doc. No. 67 at 6)
5 and Amended Scheduling Order (Doc. No. 75 at 6) (“The dates and times set forth
6 herein will not be further modified except for good cause shown.”)^{2/} The facts provided
7 by Defendant in the instant Joint Motion do not constitute good cause. Rather, the facts
8 simply demonstrate Defendant’s poor planning. Fact discovery closed on May 23, 9 2014. (Doc. No. 75 at 2.) Thus, Defendant had the information that Dr. Streed needed
10 to prepare his report more than two months before the report deadline. Defendant 11 should have exercised due diligence and immediately provided Dr. Streed with the 12 discovery necessary to prepare a report. This would have allowed Dr. Streed sufficient 13 time to prepare a report before his other obligations became more pressing.

14 In the instant Joint Motion, Third Party Defendants note that the only 15 prejudice that Defendant’s request would cause them relates to the limited time

16 ^{2/} During a May 6, 2014, telephonic Discovery Conference with Defense counsel and 17 counsel for Third Party Defendants regarding subpoenas, Defense counsel noted that 18 the fact discovery deadline was approaching and Plaintiff had recently noticed several 19 depositions. Defendant had also recently noticed several depositions. The Court noted 20 that the parties had been aware of the fact discovery deadline for months, and stated 21 that the deadline would not be extended. The Court also admonished counsel for 22 waiting until the last minute to notice and conduct depositions. During a May 22, 2014, 23 telephonic Discovery Conference with counsel for all parties, the Court granted 24 Defendant’s request to extend the fact discovery deadline for the sole purpose of 25 permitting a non-party entity to respond to a subpoena. However, the Court indicated 26 that if the non-party entity objected to or provided responses to the subpoenas that 27 Defendant found to be unsatisfactory, the Court would not entertain any discovery 28 disputes because Defendant served the subpoena late in the discovery process. Further, during a June 19, 2014, Discovery Hearing with Defense counsel and counsel for Third Party Defendants, the Court stated that “this attitude that the rules of production and the timeliness of production are just mere suggestions, I think is a wrong one.” (Doc. No.
140 at 28.)

1 remaining before the deadlines to exchange expert reports and to file pretrial motions.
 2 (Doc. No. 145 at 2-3.) However, “prejudice is not the relevant inquiry. Rule 16(b)’s 3 ‘good cause’ standard primarily considers the diligence of the party seeking the 4 amendment.” Rogers v. Brauer Law Offices, PLC, 2011 WL 3665346, at *3 (D.Ariz.
 5 Aug. 22, 2011); citing Johnson, 975 F.2d at 609. As stated above, the Court is not a 6 mere rubber stamp, and the parties must show respect for the Court’s schedule and its 7 repeated admonishments not to wait until the eleventh hour to complete discovery.

8 The Court finds that Defendant’s justification for his request is devoid of any 9 facts showing his due diligence leading up to this request. Defendant has failed to 10 explain what he did, or could not do, to meet the expert report deadline. He has 11 provided vague facts about his expert’s availability prior to August 4, 2014, and 12 suggested that Dr. Streed was unavailable for long periods of time due to two trials and 13 preparation for two more trials. However, Defendant has failed to provide any detailed 14 information about Dr. Streed’s period of unavailability, his preparation for trial, or how 15 those obligations impacted his ability to prepare a report on time. Moreover, Defendant 16 has not provided any information about when he provided discovery to Dr. Streed so 17 that he could prepare a report.

18 C. DECLARATIONS REQUIRED

19 The Court acknowledges that it limited each party to two pages in the Joint 20 Statement requesting an extension of the expert report deadline. However, in those two 21 pages, Defendant failed to make even a prima facie case of due diligence, or to explain 22 the difficulties of submitting a report on time. The Court suspects that there is a reason 23 for the absence of supporting facts in that area, but nevertheless, the Court will allow 24 Defendant to re-submit this request along with signed Declarations by both Defense 25 counsel and Dr. Streed.

26
 27 Each of the signed Declarations shall include the following information:

- 28 1. When did Defense counsel engage Dr. Streed as an expert in this case?

1 2. What was discussed regarding Dr. Streed's other engagements when 2 Defense counsel engaged him as an expert in this case?

3 3. What steps were taken to mitigate those potential scheduling problems?

4 4. Was Dr. Streed informed of the Court's expert report deadline of August 5 4, 2014?

6 5. When did Defense counsel provide Dr. Streed with the information that he 7 needed to prepare his report?

8 Any renewed request by Defendant shall include Declarations with the 9 information noted above, and shall be filed with the Court on or before August 21,
10 2014, at 5:00 p.m. If Defendant files a renewed request with Declarations, the Court 11 will potentially reconsider it's denial of Defendant's request to extend the deadline by 12 which to provide expert reports. Absent a showing that Defendant was diligent in 13 meeting the deadline, the request will remain denied.

14 In the Joint Motion, Defendant notes that unopened expert reports have been 15 returned to counsel for Third Party Defendants and counsel for Elite Show Services 16 ("Elite"). (Doc. No. 145 at 3.) Elite is not a party to this action, and the Court assumes 17 that Defendant meant to refer to Plaintiff's counsel. Third Party Defendants note that, 18 should the Court deny Defendant's instant request, they will promptly re-serve their 19 expert report, which was originally served by mail on August 1, 2014. Id.

1 If Defendant files a renewed request to continue the expert report date by 2 August 21, 2014, at 5:00 p.m., Plaintiff and Third Party Defendants may continue to 3 hold their expert reports until after the Court issues a ruling on Defendant's renewed 4 request. If, however, Defendant fails to file a renewed request by the August 21, 2014, 5 deadline, Plaintiff and Third Party Defendants shall re-serve their expert reports on or 6 before August 25, 2014.
